Graduation:

The goal for Tusculum College is to reach the median level 6-year graduation rate of 18 comparison colleges and universities by the Fall 201s cohort (Summer 2019). The comparison group consists of mid-sized private colleges and universities in Tennessee, South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia, and the median for the 2007 cohort was 45%.

Graduation rates are based on cohorts of first-time, full-time freshmen who enter in the year identified in the table and chart. Relatively few of the first-time, full-time freshmen are in Graduate and Professional Studies, as most adult learners have previous experience in higher education. In the 2008, only 61 of 346 in the cohort (17.6%) were Graduate and Professional Studies students.

The goal for Tusculum College is to reach the median of the comparison group below for 6-year graduation rates. For the 2007 cohort, the median was 45%, and Tusculum College was at 34% (2nd lowest). In the 2008 cohort, Tusculum’s graduation rate improved to 38%. However, comparison data is not yet available for this cohort.
